

BROOKLYN NEWS.

THE SAME BARBANA.

And "Disabled" Voters Used the "Affected" Arm and Hand.

Instances of Election Frauds Unearthed in Brooklyn.

More frauds were discovered by the Assembly Committee on Contested Seats sitting in Brooklyn City Hall to-day in the case of William Dwyer against William J. Plant, his Democratic opponent in the First Assembly District of Kings County.

Prof. R. W. Raymond, an election inspector in the Ninth District of the Ward, swore that Jerry Cronin, the defeated candidate for Supervisor in the Ward, ran men in to take the disability oath and assisted them despite the protests of the Republican watchers. Ten voters came into the polling-place, each carrying his arm in a sling, and each man in turn was sworn in and assisted to be disabled.

Witness said that each man was met outside the polling place and his arm put in the sling. When asked to take the oath, each man invariably used the arm and hand supposed to be disabled. The same handkerchief was used in each case.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

The witness, when asked if he would sell his vote, replied that he would do so without hesitation if he needed money.

Prof. Raymond, a lodging-house keeper, testified that thirty-five men in the lodging-house at 76 Fulton street, who voted the Democratic ticket, received $2 each from the proprietor for working in the interest of the party.

VACCINATION FOR THE POOR.

Eight Stations Where They Can Obtain Free Treatment.

Three New Small-Pox Cases in Brooklyn To-Day.

Health Commissioner Emery, of Brooklyn, announced to-day that eight vaccination stations, where the poor could receive attention free of charge, would be opened in various sections of the city on Monday morning.

Dr. Emery also said that other stations would be opened from time to time. He was especially anxious to establish a station in the heart of the colony of swarthy men in the Brownsville district. The vaccination stations will be located at the following places:

Central Dispensary, 23 Third avenue, open daily from 9 to 12 M. and 2 to 5 P. M.; St. Catherine's Hospital, Bushwick avenue and 1st Eek street, open daily from 11 A. M. until noon; Bushwick and East Brooklyn Dispensary, Myrtle avenue, open daily from 10 A. M. until noon; Young Men's Christian Association, Pennsylvania and Liberty streets, open Tuesday and Friday from 9 until 12 M.; Brooklyn Trust Company, Bedford and South Third streets, open daily from 10 A. M. until noon; Health office, 25-49 Clinton street, open daily from 10 A. M. until 4 P. M.; Southern Dispensary and Hospital, 542 1/2 Court street, open daily from 2 until 5 P. M.; Physicians will be in attendance during the specified hours to vaccinate all persons desiring it. Patients were reported to-day, twenty cases of small-pox were reported to-day. The cases were: Charles Hewitson, twenty years old, of 174 Atlantic avenue; William Schmidt, twenty years old, of 1142 Williams street; and Annie Hewitson, twenty-five years old, of 47 Eek street. All were removed to the hospital for contagious diseases, at Flatbush.

PASSION PLAYERS SORRY.

They Declare They Had Only the Purest of Motives.

LONG ISLAND CITY, March 10.—The Grand Jury is not in session to-day. The four participants in "The Passion Play" at Queens County again.

They were Anthony Schmitt, who impersonated Jesus Christ; Peter Hammer, who took the part of Judas Iscariot; Miss Catherine, who played the Virgin Mary; and Miss Barbara Becker, who acted as one of the angels at the birth of Christ.

District-Attorney Noble questioned them closely regarding the play. They all assured him that they had no other motives than the purest of motives, and they supposed it was all right, because the Sisters considered the church and were instrumental in getting up the play.

Schmitt cannot speak English. He spoke through an interpreter. He was profuse in his expressions of regret and his promises not to appear in "The Passion Play" in Queens County again.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play. He said that he had been arrested for the same reason as the others, and that he was sorry for his part in the play.

JAMES DALE IS NOW CHIEF.

After 25 Years of Service He Heads the Fire Department.

Ringsters Tried in Vain to Prevent His Merited Promotion.

Fire Commissioner Wurster, of Brooklyn, to-day promoted Assistant Chief Engineer James Dale to be Chief Engineer in place of Thomas A. Nevins, resigned. The salary is $900 a year.

Chief Dale has been in the Department for over twenty-five years. He was formerly in the New York Fire Department, but resigned to accept a position as foreman in the days of the old Volunteer Department. When the regular department was organized he was taken in as a fireman, and he has since held every rank up to the new place as Chief Engineer.

When Chief Engineer Nevins resigned it was said that Commissioner Dale wanted to appoint Dale. The Willoughby street "ring," however, favored another candidate, Commissioner Davis. On Feb. 1 without naming Nevins's successor.

Commissioner Wurster refused to fill the vacancy until he had become familiar with the affairs of the Department. He was placed by reason of his seniority in point of service, and is also well qualified to discharge the duties imposed upon him.

KILLED HIMSELF AT EIGHTY.

Goetz's Mind Became Unsettled When His Wife Died.

The body of Herman Goetz was found in the East River this morning. In his pocket was a card bearing the name of William C. Goetz, a tailor, of 98 Willoughby avenue, Brooklyn. Inquiry at that address disclosed the fact that Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

Since the death of his wife, some years ago, Goetz had been unsettled in his mind. Yesterday he went out, ostensibly to take a walk. The authorities at the German Lutheran Home were unable to find him, and he was reported missing until told of his death by a reporter this morning.

Goetz was an inmate of the German Lutheran Home for the Aged, at Chauncey and Moffat streets, Brooklyn.

SUGAR AGAIN THE FEATURE.

Advances at the Opening, but Fails to Hold the Gain.

The Market Dull and Speculation Without Interest.

The week closed with a comparatively quiet condition of affairs in Wall street, yet with a distinct tendency towards improvement. There was little pressure to sell stocks this morning, although prices were higher, and purchases made yesterday of almost any feature on the list could be sold at a profit.

Sugar was the feature and sold up 3-14 to 91-18 on a rumor that the directors would meet this afternoon of Monday and declare the regular dividends. As is well known, action has been delayed for some time, presumably for effect at Washington, the Trust not being willing to furnish the necessary information.

It is generally believed that the Trust has made heavy purchases of raw sugar and will profit immensely from the higher duties.

In the general list Chicago Gas rose 1-16 to 62 1/2; Oil, 1-16 to 21 1/2; Distillers 3-8 to 21-18; General Electric 3-4 to 43-8; Reading 3-8 to 32; Western Union 1-16 to 8; and Union Pacific 1-16 to 37 1/2.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

The gross earnings of the St. Paul road for the first week of March were $28,849, a decrease of $1,000 from the previous week.

JAMES MALLEY'S LAST SPREE.

Found Dead with Five Empty Whiskey Bottles by His Side.

Grief Over His Brother's Death Wrecked His Life.

James Malley, thirty-five years old, was found dead in his bed this morning at 251 Eighth avenue, where he had a furnished room. Two months ago he was in Bellevue Hospital, being treated for alcoholism. Last Wednesday he went on a spree and last night he was in a helpless state of intoxication.

When his body was discovered this morning there were five empty whiskey bottles by his side.

Malley's brother was killed in a collision on the Pennsylvania Railroad two years ago. His death drove Malley heavily after his brother's death, which was always in his mind. He carried his brother's death certificate in his pocket all the time, and would be heard every night crying like a child over his brother's death.

Four bank books were found in the room. Malley showed that Malley had $200 in bank.

</